To Commune With Nature

Annual trek of the managers of packing association members of the O. X. Exchange starts tomorrow morning at 5 a. m., providing said managers can get up at that time. Big Bear Lake and the wide open stretches where the cooling mountain breezes blow by day and the whispering pine trees sing you to sleep at night; up on the mountain tops where God's magnificent out-of-doors calls man to bide awhile and rest from the grind that gnaws; up where you can see the blue horizon dip into the western sea and you wonder at the marvelousness of it all—that's where these men are going and they will lay aside for three days the responsibilities of life and be boys again just for a day.

Besides the murmuring mountain stream, perched upon a friendly rock with fishing reel in hand the hours will while themselves away—catching fish is not important but relief from the strain of the winter's work bring back the snap, the hustle and the nerve that it takes to make a success of the mammoth business of fruit packing, shipping and selling.

Last year just a little fellow made the postponement of the trip necessary, for the stork visited the home of Manager H. B. Harlow and left there a darling bit of humanity that since that day has grown into a bouncing baby boy. Though disappointed that last year's outing had to be postponed, the managers joined in a hearty welcome to the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow—and this year they are off for a well earned three day rest.

Bon Voyage Me Lads.

Those going on the trip are: H. B. Harlow, manager of the O. X. Exchange; P. H. Norton, manager Upland Citrus Association; E. C. Rosenberger, manager Upland Heights Orange Association; R. H. Henderson, manager Alta Loma Heights Citrus Association; G. A. Hanson, manager Hanson Fruit Company; L. R. Bradley, manager Upland Lemon Growers Association; J. F. Hamilton, manager of the Mountain View Citrus Fruit Association; D. R. Foss, manager Etiwanda Citrus Fruit Association; Kenneth Blaikie, manager Citrus Fruit Association of Ontario;

NEW CANDIDATE FOR SUPERVISOR

E. M. (Ted) Cooley, well known resident of San Bernardino, Wednesday made formal announcement of his candidacy as supervisor of the fifth district.

Mr. Cooley is a Republican in politics and was a supporter of Calvin Coolidge during the recent primary. He has been interested in political affairs for many years and in 1912 was a candidate for supervisor, opposing S. V. Horton. This was one of the exciting campaigns of old-time politics.

Resident of Valley All His Life

Mr. Cooley is a native of San Bernardino Valley and has for many years been the head of operations of the Riverside Trust company on its extensive properties at Victoria, which was the Cooley home for many years. A number of years ago he purchased a home at 541 D Street, San Bernardino, where he resides. As general manager of the Riverside Trust company, Mr. Cooley has had charge of important operations and his friends believe that he is well fitted with business experience to aid in the direction of the county affairs. He is conversant with the situation in all parts of the district, through his long residence.

It is the plan of Mr. Cooley to make an active campaign for the office of supervisor.

TELEPHONE WIRES
GO UNDER GROUND

Efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of some two years ago are today bearing fruit. At that time the city was almost picketed with hideous telephone poles, and under the direction of G. A. Hanson, who was president of the Chamber of Commerce at that time, it was decided that it was high time that the poles be removed from the main streets and put in the alleys or the cables and wires run underground in cables.

Today the Ontario-Upland Telephone Company is placing its cables underground and as Manager Tuttle said the other day: "It took a long time for us to get to it, but my promise is being carried out."

Millinery Lady (to man): "And here's your change, sir."
Man: "And now that you have trimmed me so nicely can't you sell me for a hat?"

Chamber of Commerce Bulletin

The following invitation has been received by the Secretary of the Upland Chamber of Commerce from Ernest Pickering of San Bernardino:

"As you have probably seen through the newspapers, I have recently purchased Urbeta Springs at San Bernardino, and have changed the name to Pickering Park. We are completing our new Ball room and will give our formal opening on Thursday, June 19th. Through Secretary Royal Mack of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce we extend an invitation to you and as many of your friends as you desire to invite to be our guests on that occasion. Kindly let me know the number of tickets you will desire, not later than June 10th, so that we may have ample time to forward them to you and provide for your party."

WHY HE BELONGS

Says Henry C. Wallace, secretary of Agriculture regarding the benefits of belonging to the Chamber of Commerce: "My reasons for joining the Chamber of Commerce of Des Moines were mainly three—because of my desire to aid in the development of my home city and in promoting the prosperity and welfare of its citizens; because I realized that one of the most effective ways of accomplishing this purpose was through an organization of public spirited men; and because I desired to benefit from personal contact acquaintanceship and interchange of ideas with the business men of my city."

Mr. Wallace's reasons should be those of every public spirited man in this city. We feel sure that everyone wants to help in the development and growth of the City of Upland and its Chamber of Commerce, and a special appeal is made to those who have not yet paid their dues for this year.

The regular business meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the O. K. Fruit Exchange offices on Tuesday, June 10th at 7:30 p. m.

THE NATION—once again—pays silent tribute to those of its departed defenders—the boys of '61, '98 and '17. So, on this Memorial Day, as we decorate their last resting places, let us give a thought to the noble ideals that prompted them to answer the call of their country. Theirs was a sacrifice without thought of personal gain, given with a sense of duty in defense of their fellow citizens. Noble, indeed, and inspiring to this and future generations.

And while we're remembering those who have gone, let us pay homage to those veterans who are still with us. As they pass on parade, let's give them a rousing cheer and show our appreciation for their past deeds with a "Well done, Boys—Well done!"

ARREST OFFICER FOR BOOT LEGGING

Suspected of bootlegging, Officer Christopher Meyer, of the Los Angeles police force, was arrested early Wednesday morning at Barstow.

In an automobile which Meyer was driving, deputy sheriffs found his policeman's cap bearing the seal of the City of Los Angeles and the serial number 1705, by which he was known on the police force.

Brotherly Love is Lacking

Meyer protested to the Barstow officers that "this is a nice way to treat a brother officer," when arrested, but his plea failed to save him from being jailed. With Meyer were P. Haan and J. C. Givonette, two Los Angeles residents. They were not drunk, nor had they been drinking. It is probable that they will be released today.

Officer Meyer threatened to fight when arrested, according to Deputy Sheriff Ed Harris, who brought Meyer to the county jail last night. The policeman, however, quelled his fighting spirit when warned that he was inviting trouble for himself.

Watcher by Detectives

Detectives in Los Angeles were investigating the activities of Officer Meyer when he was arrested, according to word received by Sheriff Walter A. Shay yesterday. It is charged that Meyer was selling liquor in Barstow. He said he was due back in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon to report for duty at the Lincoln Heights police station. Meyer will be arraigned today on a Wright Act charge. In his automobile were found three bottles of whiskey. The car may be confiscated.

CHARGED WITH TAKING COUPE

Arrested in an Ontario motion picture theatre on a charge of taking the coupe of Mark Bailey of Upland on the night of May 15, J. D. Chowning, 35, Upland plasterer, is today held in the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Chowning was arrested by Motor Traffic Officer Louis E. Krommeyer and Night Officer Charles Haughs of Upland upon complaint of Police Chief J. F. Sawyer.

Date is Not Set

Date for his preliminary hearing has not been definitely fixed.

Chowning is charged with violating section 146 of the motor vehicle act, which makes it a felony to take or temporarily deprive a car owner of the use of his car. He is accused of having taken Bailey's coupe while it was parked in flower store, Upland.

Upland officers later found the car and towed it in to the Ford garage there, Mr. Bailey being sick at the time.

Claim Car is Damaged

The car was so badly damaged that it could be run only in low gear, according to Chief Sawyer who estimates that it will cost approximately $200 to fix it up again.

Chowning indignantly denies the charge and declares that any one saying he took the car lies.

Chief Sawyer as firmly states that he has witnesses to prove that Chowning took the car. Chowning pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge George R. Crane, Tuesday.

RANGE CATTLE ARE PROTECTED

Further legislation to prevent a recurrence of the foot and mouth disease in San Bernardino County was enacted by the Board of Supervisors.

Advised that thousands of head of cattle were to be shipped to the desert ranges from the north, where the animal plague is yet unconquered, the supervisors called an executive conference and adopted an emergency ordinance preventing the shipping of cloven hoof animals into the county except for immediate slaughter.

Protects County Range Herds

The emergency law, because of its immediate effectiveness, will halt the proposed shipping of the cattle into the desert, the report of which led to the hurried calling of the conference by the supervisors. The ordinance, a precautionary measure designed to protect desert cattle from possible spread of the scourge, was unanimously passed by the supervisors.

The ordinance prohibits the shipping into the county of hogs, goats, or cattle during the existence of the foot and mouth disease, providing, however, that nothing in this ordinance shall prevent the shipping through or into the county of hogs, goats or cattle for immediate slaughter under federal permit.

Word was received by cattlemen that nearly 10,000 head of range cattle were to be shipped into the county from the north, where stockmen feared infection of their herds because of the failure so far to definitely stamp out the disease. The supervisors were notified and a conference was called within a few hours.

Only One Outbreak Experienced

The foot and mouth disease reached San Bernardino County but on one occasion, when 780 hogs at Declez were slaughtered after the infection was discovered. So effective was the county's fight against the disease, that not another case was reported. On the desert are thousands of head of cattle, owned by San Bernardino cattlemen, and the act of the supervisors will protect the herds. It is believed, from possible extension that would necessarily follow an outbreak.

Six Months In Jail Sentence
Is Suspended Pending
Good Behavior
For One Year

Notorious kidnapping case which involved the asserted abduction of W. D. "Bill" Askew, formerly of "Mac the Medicine Man's Soda Fountain here, to a lonely cabin in San Antonio canyon ended Wednesday afternoon when R. E. Scott and A. L. Bloomfield, who took Askew to the cabin pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of assault and were fined $200 each and given suspended sentences of six months in the county jail. The felony charge against all four defendants, including T. H. Scott and C. J. Scott, was dismissed.

The dismissal of the charge of false imprisonment, a felony, which had been brought against the four residents of San Antonio canyon, was recommended by Deputy District Attorney Joseph Marchetti, of Los Angeles County, after Defense Attorneys Bert L. Cooper and A. L. Hickson presented the offer of Bloomfield and R. E. Scott to plead guilty to the lesser charge in case the false imprisonment charge should be dismissed. This action followed a two and one-half hour morning session of the court which was devoted entirely to a cross-examination by Deputy Marchetti of R. E. Scott, the first defense witness to take the stand.

During the cross-examination of Scott, it became apparent that only a lengthy and expensive legal battle could settle the case either way.

Moves For Dismissal

At the opening of the afternoon session at 2 o'clock Deputy Marchetti moved that the case against T. H. and C. J. Scott be dismissed on the grounds of insufficiency of evidence.

He further moved that in consideration of the fact that R. E. Scott and Bloomfield would plead guilty to the lesser charge as assault, the felony charge against them be also dismissed on the grounds of insufficiency of evidence.

Judge Will G. Fields of San Dimas, presiding at the preliminary hearing in the Pomona city council chamber, formally dismissed the cases and read an amended complaint sworn to by Askew and charging Scott and Bloomfield with assault upon his person. They pleaded guilty.

Then Defense Attorney Cooper made an eloquent plea for leniency, pointing out that the two had committed the act with which they were charged with an unselfish intent, they desiring only to get back the money for Scott's brother which he had secured by selling his home and which had been won from him unlawfully. Mr. Cooper showed the punishment the two had already received in having spent several days in jail, having had to pay attorneys and to consider their possible punishment.

Deputy Marchetti in his argument stated that it did not seem fitting for him to try to influence the court's judgment, but that in view of the fact that a more serious charge against them had been dismissed, the defendants could hardly hope to receive no punishment.

Judge Accepts Plea

Judge Fields pondered a moment. "The court has accepted your plea," he motioned for Scott and Bloomfield to stand, and in view of the evidence submitted I cannot give a nominal sentence.

"It is the judgment of this court that you pay a fine of $200 each and be confined for six months each in the county jail."

Defense Attorney Cooper was on his feet in a flash. "Your honor, that six months in jail is the worst that could happen to these boys. I believe that they merit leniency. Could not the court find some way to remit or suspend this jail sentence?"

Judge Fields considered while the two defendants stood awaiting his decision, Scott nervously twitching his hands, Bloomfield standing immovable and perspiring.

"The jail sentence will be suspended upon your good behavior for one year."

"My recommendation would be two years," insisted Deputy Marchetti.

"No, I think one year is sufficient," replied the judge.

Miss Nell Lockwood Sings Before
Upland Woman's Club at Colonial

A campfire glowing in the background, boughs of eucalyptus, a real wick-up, and real Indian blankets and baskets, made a wonderful stage setting for the concert given by Miss Nell Lockwood under the auspices of the Study Section of the Woman's Club last Tuesday afternoon.

Through the kindness of Manager A. M. Fielding, who generously offered the Colonial Theatre for the occasion, a great number of people were enabled to hear Miss Lockwood to the very best advantage. The stage lent itself admirably to the dramatic setting, and the artist and her accompanist, Miss Helen Gale of Los Angeles, appeared in genuine Indian gowns of leather with fringe and beads.

Miss Lockwood's voice, a contralto of the purest quality, showed to great advantage in the Indian music, and her songs were all thoroughly enjoyed by her appreciative audience. It would be difficult to choose any one song that she gave better than another, but the Indian Lover's song, founded on the first three measures of an Omaha love call, was beautiful, and the Mocking Bird's song of happiness, a voice of melody in the silent night, won great applause from everyone.

While singing one song, Miss Lockwood carried a papoose in tribal fashion, adding to the realism of her solo. Miss Gale, who played the accompaniments, used a Knabe piano, lent through the courtesy of the Fitzgerald Music Company of Los Angeles. The instrument was heard to great advantage in the theatre, and was handled in a masterly manner by the pianist.

Mrs. Leon Durham and Mrs. W. W. Mather were the committee responsible for the very successful entertainment, and as so many were disappointed in not being able to hear Miss Lockwood, owing to previous engagements, it has been suggested that perhaps next winter, when the club programs start again, Miss Lockwood may be induced to return to Upland and give another recital of her Indian songs.

BRIDGES ACROSS DAM PROPOSED State and Federal Engineers Ask Bids On Mountain Project

Bids for the construction of a bridge across the Big Bear Valley dam and two miles of highway on the south side of the lake at an estimated cost of more than $65,000, will be opened this week by state and federal highway engineers at Sacramento.

The two projects were included in the building of a scenic route around Big Bear Lake and the Deep Creek cut-off road which enters the valley at the dam. The proposed bridge will be a unique structure, in that it will be constructed on the dam, which stands 100 feet above the lake on the west and but a few feet from the water on the east.

The two-mile highway will link the Big Bear Valley Boulevard, a road constructed on the north side of the lake, with the road constructed on the north side of the lake by the county last year. The course of the road is through rock-ribbed hills and its construction may prove far more expensive than the average mountain road.

When the two projects are completed, motorists will be able to drive directly to the valley's resorts via the Deep Creek cut-off road without skirting the lake on the north.

THE CROOKED ISLE CROCODILE

Little Cleopatra went a-wading in the Nile.
And on a little Crooked Isle she saw a crocodile.
She liked the creature's features when he smiled: "I'm glad to meet you."
He said: "I'll run a race with you and when I beat you, eat you."

This was in the Delta where this shocking blow was dealt her.
So little Cleopatra ran for shelter helter skelter.
The gator has a gait that's sure, but Cleo's gait was greater.
And so she got ashore afore the alligator ate 'er.

FAMILIAR POEMS

PLAZAS

I have seen them in distant south-lands,
With their fringed, feathery palms
That beckon to sailors in moonlight.
Like the dear, enchanted, white hands
Of a wild girl with sweet aims
For sorrow on a deep, golden night.

Plazas! Men alluringly make them
And priests utterly forsake them.
While they build their gaunt churches near.
Each is an emerald bright gem
In a tawny, rich diadem
And vagrant humanity dwells here.

I have loved them, far distant
plazas,
With my last, hard-earned plas-ter.
Where we came carousing in
To the dear, dim-lighted plazas,
From our rollicking, old three-master.
And wooed them, wholeheartedly, in sin.

I have sought them in frozen
northlands
Where snowflakes overcast flowers.
And balmy winds had long blown;
But only in warm Samaritania
And San Diego are bowers
And plazas for longing like my own.

THE GLAD DAYS

O sun-days are fun days
With laughter on the wing.
And glad hearts and mad hearts
Are stirred to rollicking;
And old hearts and cold hearts
Are burning with the Spring.

A rapture, we'll capture
The golden mists of morn;
With rolic and frolic
We'll tune the romping horn.
We'll hurry past worry
To the rose upon the thorn.
The bright days, the light days
Shall call us to the hills;
The gleaming and streaming
Mist rainbows of the hills
Shall cheer us, and near us
We'll spy the daffodils.

This sun-steeped life will never know
The sheer delight of crunching
snow
Neath slipping wheels that sing!

Caressing sounds (with tender

(O, sweet the far bells' jingling

HE KNEW MARK TWAIN

He came from Virginia City, so he said,
And knew Mark Twain. "Why,
yes, God bless you, sir,
One time I knew Mark Twain, and knew him well.
If I were in Virginia City now
I'd be the oldest resident. Eighty-five.
That's what I am; born on the Isle of Man,
And wandered to the coast by Panama.
Then up into the mountains. Those were days
When the white lights on C Street would have made (Virginia's chief thoroughfare, I mean)
The lights on Broadway look like candle flames,
And as for crowds, no spot in all the world
Could match the folk that thronged Virginia then.
Gay? Weren't they gay when the night strewed its stars
Across the sky over Mt. Davidson
Towering above the city! I recall
They used to seem like nuggets,
those same stars,
Polished and set up there. But,
oh, Mark Twain!
Sure, sir, I knew Mark Twain."
The film-hazed eyes
Twinkled and round his loose and mobile mouth
Flickered a sudden and suggestive smile
That spread among his wrinkles.
I intent,
Waited some blithe revelation
when a voice
Broke sharply upon our colloquy—
"Oh, grandad," and I saw a brisk young man Who beckoned to the ancient. He arose,
Tottered a little, leaned upon his cane
Then shambled off, shaking his grizzled head,
And flinging o'er his shoulder as he went,
"Oh, yes, I knew Mark Twain!"

Tribune.

Courage and Statesmanship Needed

THE San Francisco Bulletin has been running some excellent editorials on the necessity of getting back to first principles in our regard for, and honor of the constitution of the United States and the fundamental principles which were recognized in establishing our democratic form of government.

In commenting on the recent action, or lack of action in congress and its failure to exert itself along business rather than political lines, the Bulletin in double column, black-face editorial, after citing numerous instances of the shortcomings of our national law-making body, says:

"At bottom, responsibility for the present disgraceful situation at Washington lies with congress, whose hypocrisy, shirking and moral cowardice brought about conditions that made corruption inevitable."

It then cites numerous instances of radical, silly or freak legislation which congress has passed to satisfy hysterical demands or dodge responsibility.

"A dozen boards and bureaus can be mentioned to which congress has granted the high, the middle and the low justice with respect to wide areas of activity and important industries.

"Citizens and business enterprises can be ruined by various of these boards and bureaus without ever having a day in court. As for ancient right of privacy, there is nothing left. Our telephones are tapped, our desks are rifled, our books searched on orders from our departmental inquisitors. Few human beings are fit to be trusted with the power which congress so gaily delegates to the bureaucracy.

"Our form of government has changed under our eyes. We are governed not by statutes, but by rulings of this department and that commissioner whose orders have the force of laws. Our rights are determined for us not by courts and juries, who hear our cases in public, but by inspectors and investigators and bureaus who collect evidence where they find it and announce decision in true Turkish fashion. That, of course, is not democracy. It is not even efficient but if it were, free government should not be sacrificed to efficiency. "Only a congress that will display some courage and statesmanship, and a little devotion to the constitution of the United States will rid us of this pest of bureaucracy and restore the American ideal of popular government."

What Is Success?

SUCCESS is a word that men worship today. But most of us understand it only by its surface meaning. To some men it means wealth, property, fame, position.

Few men seem to realize that they may attain to all these and yet fail of a successful, worthwhile life. It is true wealth, honorably attained, may mean success. Otherwise it can only mean failure. The man that is striving upward, without making the attainment of character the supreme object of his life, will not reach any worth-while success. There are hundreds and thousands of people who have died in poverty, who have made a success of life. There are many who have suffered in sickness and affliction for years, but in spite of physical handicaps have achieved success.

The parents who rear their children and train them so that they occupy an honorable and respected place in the community, have done a service to God and man, and have made a success. They have given their children a valuable heritage thought they may not leave them a dollar. On the other hand the parents who are careless and unconcerned and fail of setting a proper example before their children, fail to train and discipline them so that they go wrong, have failed in one of the most supreme things in life. Such for instance was George Pullman who though he made a fortune yet failed to give attention to his sons, who ended their lives as degraded sots.

The thought of success is too often held up to the young man just entering life on his own account, as the ultimate goal, and his idea of success is a career, getting wealth or a place of prominence in life. Parents, teachers and others who influence such young lives, have certainly failed in their duty if they have not given them better ideals than the mere accumulation of wealth. Seeking only for self, accumulating only to hoard it for selfish indulgence, is only a species of miserliness that separates man from his fellows and from his God.—La Verne Leader.

Farm Power

WHILE in some respects the advancement in orchard and farm practices has possibly not kept pace with that of other industries, yet if we look back to the time of the crude ox drawn wagons and plows, the old oaken bucket that hung in the well, and the tallow candle, and then view the modern farm with its automobile, tractors and trucks, its power driven pumps, feed cutters, grindstones and churns, its electrically equipped household conveniences and electrically lighted buildings, we cannot help but feel that agriculture has made some advances in the things that make rural life worth while.

Of course, in most of these United States, the oxen were long ago replaced by horses, the old oaken bucket gave way to the windmill and the kerosene lamp put the tallow candle on the shelf. Most of these have in turn given away to the mechanical farm equipment of the present day.

There are of course many farms not so equipped, some where conditions will not permit of these conveniences, others where the owners still prefer to cling to the old methods, but few there are that have not or do not feel the need or desire to have some of them.

While the tractor has in a measure displaced the horse, especially on the larger acreages, there are many places where the horse is considered the only practical motive power and many farmers still swear by old Dobbin.

In the present day farming each has its place in our agricultural activities and each its champions. Neither can completely displace the other and as we come to know the qualifications and limitations of each there will be less switching about and a more stable demand for both.—Cultivator.

FLAG TOURNEY AT RED HILL CLUB

Red Hill Country Club will be the scene of considerable activity Memorial Day from morning until midnight.

Committees on tournaments at the popular club have arranged for a flag tourney to be played Friday. Playing will start in the morning and run on through the day. The course will no doubt be well sprinkled with the national colors when the sport of the day is concluded.

Each player on starting the excursion around the greens is given a small American flag, along with his quota of strokes in which he is supposed to negotiate the course. After using all the strokes allotted him the player sticks his flag in the ground and knocks off for the day.

In the evening, attention will be turned to the elaborate Memorial Day dance in the club ballroom, which club members propose to make one of the biggest affairs of the summer months. Several invitations have been sent out for the occasion.

Immediately after the flag day tourney aftermath has subsided the golf hounds will turn their attention to the "President's Cup Tourney," to be started early in June, and run over a period of three weeks or a month.

TENNIS TOURNEY AT CHAFFEY HIGH

Although entries for the mammoth Decoration Day event and doubles tennis tourney at Chaffey Union High closed last night, enough names have been signed to the roster to assure a day of playing such as has seldom been seen here in an independent net classic similar to the one proposed.

Only one restriction on players is made by the committee in charge—each team must bring two new balls for use in the battle. Otherwise the classic is as free to the players and onlookers as is the generous California sunshine.

Those engineering the tournament are now busily engaged in pairing off the teams for the tilt. Playing is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock, straight up, and when it is finished remains to be seen. It will probably be dark before everyone has had a crack at the other fellow, but everyone will be satisfied when the fracas is over, say the managers of the battle.

Cups have been offered by L. G. Bumstead, Ontario; Roy Creighton, Upland; The Upland News and The Daily Report. These trophies will be awarded winners of matches.

TUTTLE STUDIO OPENED AT BRILLIANT AFFAIR

One of the most brilliant social affairs of the season was held Monday evening when the attractive new dancing studio of Mrs. Charles L. Tuttle was formally opened. Guests of the occasion included friends from Ontario, Upland, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Etiwanda, Pomona, Claremont and Los Angeles, and numbered approximately 250.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lucas and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gardner. Assisting in serving were Mrs. H. A. Teget, Mrs. Samuel Gardner, Mrs. R. D. Newton, Miss Edith Walker and Miss Alberta Schaefer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle were most courteous hosts and the evening proved a most successful and enjoyable one.

A program of clever dance numbers by a number of the pupils followed the reception, and included: "Amaryllis," an old French dance, and a Chinese nursery rhyme, by little Miss Billy Cochran; a Chinese pantomime, by Miss Virginia Walters and George Tuttle, the theme being taken from nursery rhymes of the Chinese; "Hearts and Flowers," a dainty dance, by Miss Melba Larson; Miss Leonora Tuttle was picturesque as daughter of Spain, and gave a clever Spanish dance; Miss Mary Graber and Miss Leonora Tuttle gave an original waltz and solo dance, and Miss Edith Walker and Miss Helen Sapp appeared in a Spanish ballroom dance.

All joined in dancing following the program, music for which was furnished by Eddy Simpson's orchestra.

The studio, attractive and artistic in every detail, was banked with beautiful flowers, decorated with Japanese parasols and cherry blossoms extended from the ceiling, making it an ideal setting.

BRIDGE TEA AT COUNTRY CLUB

More than eighty society women of the West End attended the bridge tea with which the Women's Greens Committee entertained at Red Hill Country Club

SOCIETY

Wednesday afternoon.

Twenty tables were used in the auction tournament, the players pivoting around the tables. The holder of the high score at each table was awarded a handsome deck of cards as a prize.

The rooms of the club were artistically decorated for the occasion with graceful baskets of spring flowers and fernery. Tempting refreshments were served at the close of the card tournament.

Hostesses of the afternoon numbered Mrs. Paul Wright Nichols, Mrs. Charles Eugene Grier, Mrs. Leigh Thompson, Mrs. William Howard Craig, Jr., Mrs. Charles Colladay and Mrs. LeRoy A. Well-er.

Another similar card tea is to be given by the Women's Greens Committee next month, the date to be announced later.

DINNER AND BRIDGE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Mathews entertained with a dinner party on Tuesday evening at the Red Hill Country Club, followed by dancing and bridge.

Baskets of pink carnations and ferns were used in decoration, and each woman guest was presented with a bouquet of carnations by the hostess.

At the close of the bridge game favors were awarded Mrs. S. D. Allee and H. O. Blohm for high score, and Mr. and Mrs. Teuscher for low score.

Invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Atchley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plum, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Allee, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Teuscher, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bauerlein, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kennedy, Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Mengle, Mr. and Mrs. Blohm, Mrs. Mae Cable, and Mrs. Miller of Claremont.

MRS. L. D. TEMPLE HOSTESS

The National League of Voters was the topic of the afternoon at the regular meeting of the Reading Circle at the home of Mrs. L. D. Temple on Euclid Avenue on Wednesday. Mrs. Heinemann, the speaker, is vice-president of the California League. She told of the object of the League, which she termed all-partisan, because there were women of all parties in it, and which is not really political only so far as the members study proposed laws and stand back of those which are for the benefit of women and children. Laws that are in effect but not effective, bad laws that should be eliminated, etc., are studied by this league. "A Study of California's Method of School Financing" was gotten out by the California League of Women Voters. Adequate financing of public education was the first aim of the National League of Women Voters, and was given a thorough study during 1923-24.

The following pledge stands for the ideals of the League: Believing in government by the people, for the people, I will do my best:

First—To inform myself about public questions, the principles and policies of political parties, and the qualifications of candidates for public offices.

Second—To vote according to my conscience in every election, primary or final, at which I am entitled to vote.

Third—To obey the law even when I am not in sympathy with all its provisions.

Fourth—To support by all fair means the principles of which I approve.

Fifth—To respect the right of others to uphold convictions that may differ from my own.

Sixth—To regard my citizenship as a public trust.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Temple, the members of the Upland Woman's Club were special guests and a goodly number took advantage of her offer to hear Mrs. Heinemann. Mrs. Temple was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. Laurence Larrabee of Los Angeles, who brought guests with her. Mrs. Larrabee was for part of the past year secretary of the Los Angeles League, and introduced the speaker. About fifty enjoyed the occasion.

POMOLOGICAL CLUB MEETS SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson will be hosts at their home on West Tenth Street next Saturday to some eighty members of the Pomological Club of Pomona Valley, when the regular meeting will be held.

An interesting program in which Dean Charles J. Booth of Chaffey Junior College, Dean Merrill, and Professor Hudson of the University of California will take part has been planned, and luncheon will be served under the lovely camphor trees on the Hawkinson home ranch.

COSTUME PARTY AT HOT POINT A SUCCESS

The social evening given by members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of this city last Tuesday evening was held at the Hot Point Clubhouse in Ontario and proved a most enjoyable evening.

Through the kindness of Mrs. George L. Winter, president of the club, who is a stockholder in the Edison Electrical Appliance Company, members were allowed the free use of the Hot Point club rooms, and E. H. Richardson, works manager, opened the factory during the evening for the benefit of those wishing to see through it. Several Hot Point office employees acted as guides, and explained "how the wheels go round" in the manufacture of the irons, toasters, coffee percolators and other articles produced there.

The clubhouse was a delightful place for a party, and Mrs. Clara Dossinger and Mrs. Cole of Ontario played excellent dance music throughout the evening for those who wished to dance, giving generously of their time and talent for the amusement of the sixty guests.

Mrs. W. J. McCloskey of the Upland Florist Shop, offered a prize of a basket of flowers to the woman whose costume best represented her occupation, and though several of the members dressed as gypsies, yama yamas, pierettes, Spanish cavaliers, attractive boys, and so on, there were quite a number who came attired in costumes that represented their calling.

After passing before the judges, composed of Ontario girls, Miss Lucy Millard, chairman, Mrs. Cole and Miss Templeton, the prize was awarded Mrs. J. M. Burton of the Burton Beauty Parlors on First Avenue for originality and design of workmanship.

The evening was spent in dancing and visiting the factory, and the serving of sandwiches, cookies and coffee ended a delightful time.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Caroline Weirich, instructor of typing and shorthand at Chaffey Union High School, and Anson J. Smalley, teacher of history and one of Chaffey's coaches, have announced their engagement, much to the satisfaction of their many friends, who have had an inkling that such an announcement would soon be forthcoming, but not when.

Mrs. Weirich, who is a native of Ohio, lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., for many years before coming to California. Her father was one of the prominent merchants of the city, but is now a resident of Grand Terrace, and is in business in San Bernardino.

Mrs. Weirich is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, where she was awarded high honors in music. She also has strong dramatic ability, and has been a very successful coach in several of the plays produced at Chaffey this year.

Mr. Smalley is a graduate of Grinnell College, Iowa, and has been on the faculty of Chaffey for several years. He is a veteran of the World War and saw much active service in France, where he gained distinction. Mr. Smalley is also an all-around athlete and plays a good game of golf.

No date has been set for the wedding.

RECEPTION AND TEA BY MRS. LATIMER

Prominent among the smart affairs of the waning society season was the tea of delightful appointments with which Mrs. Charles Latimer entertained this afternoon at her beautiful home, 945 North Euclid Avenue, Ontario. Mrs. John Whitworth Barnes, formerly Miss Blanche Robertson, popular Ontario society girl, was the complimented guest. After a number of years' absence, the guest of honor, with her husband, Colonel Barnes, who has recently retired from active army life, has recently returned to Ontario to live.

Graceful baskets of old-fashioned garden blossoms and fernery were employed with artistic effect in decoration, a charming yellow note predominating in the spacious dining room. Delightful music was furnished during the afternoon by an instrumental quartet.

Mrs. Latimer was assisted by Miss Opal Robertson, Mrs. Frank Monroe Taylor, Mrs. Harvey Oliver Chapman and Mrs. William Starbuck Fenton of Ontario; Miss Daisy Latimer of Riverside, and Mrs. William James Chick and Mrs. Robert Campbell Parsons Smith of Los Angeles.

A delicious collation was dispensed during the afternoon. More than 100 society women of Ontario, Upland and vicinity called during the receiving hours, from four until six.

During a heated argument in a cafe in Boulogne, Eugene Bourdon, a carpenter, had the end of his nose bitten off by Henri Laurie, a baker. Bourdon rushed to the Boulogne hospital, where he had the end of his nose stitched on again.

THEIR SPIRIT LIVES!

In Flanders' fields where the poppies blow and in sacred ground of our own United States—they sleep. No longer do they face the trials of a turbulent world. Never again will they have to spring to arms at the sound of war's bugles. Their duty's done and—they're resting in peace.

And yet—THEIR SPIRIT LIVES! It always will live. Years can not blot out the memories they left for us as they sacrificed their all in order that we—who remain behind—might live in true Peace and Happiness. Theirs was truly, the giving of the full measure of devotion to their country. And on this great Memorial Day, let us give a silent prayer not only for those heroes of 1917 and '18 but likewise for the boys of '61 and '98 who have left this vale of tears but whose deeds will live on forever.

JUDGE OLNEY REFUSES BAIL TO JOHN HULING

Superior Judge Jesse Olney's courtroom was again the scene of a turbulent half hour late Tuesday when the jurist demanded that Attorney Robert Clark, former superior judge of Ventura, apologize for his remarks as Judge Olney denied a motion to release John E. Huling, accomplice in the $30,000 Ontario graft, on bail pending a decision in his appeal.

Judge Clark's smiling apology was provisional, he declaring that "if there are any apologies due the court I shall be glad to make them."

The clash came when Judge Olney stated from the bench that he believed the granting of Huling bail would be a nullification of the jury's verdict.

Attorney intimates prejudice of Court.

"In view of the fact that the court has expressed his opinion on the guilt of this defendant I take it that you are refusing bail because of such opinion," began Judge Clark, who appeared to represent Huling in the plea for bail, "and I do not understand that it is the defendant's constitutional right to be admitted to bail even though he is convicted."

"The court has not expressed any opinion in this case," retorted Judge Olney, adding that a jury and not the court had convicted Huling. "You will apologize to the court."

Judge Clark protested that he did not believe any apologies were due Judge Olney, and referred to the court reporter's transcript to support his statement. Judge Clark again attempted to point out that Huling should be admitted to bail, particularly in view of the fact that he was convicted of but one of seven charges and had appealed to the higher courts.

Huling's attorney had requested bail because, he said, the convicted man's business in Los Angeles was facing bankruptcy and that, if Huling were allowed liberty pending the decision in the appeal, he could avert his financial ruin. Huling was at liberty on $25,000 bail before his conviction and in court Tuesday Huling's relatives were ready to furnish $50,000 or more bail.

Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hert, who opposed granting Huling bail when he was convicted, said in court that "he had not changed his opinion."

TRIO GO ON TRIAL FOR BOLD HOLDUP

Charged with the bold holdup of A. V. Starks at the Glenn Ranch store last February, two men and a woman went on trial Wednesday before a jury in Department Two of the Superior Court. They are Claude Robbs, Paul Neja and May Neef. The technical charge is highway robbery. Starks, the victim in the robbery, will be the state's star witness.

Three attorneys, S. W. McNabb, P. N. McCloskey and Carl M. Heim, the latter of Los Angeles, will appear for the defendants, who are all at liberty on bail.

Any part in the holdup and robbery of Starks is denied by the three defendants.

A request was made early this month that a separate trial be given May Neef. The request, made by Attorney McCloskey after the defendants had made a formal plea of not guilty to the charge, was denied by the court. The trio of defendants was arrested in Los Angeles ten days

ELENA BROTHERS HELD BY OFFICIALS

Sought by federal officials since a 50-gallon still was found in operation in the palatial $20,000 Elena home at Etiwanda last week, Frank and John Elena have been placed under arrest and released in Los Angeles under $4,000 bonds each, it was learned today from Los Angeles.

Both men will face charges of violating the Volstead Act. The charge is said by authorities to be doubly serious because of the fact that, according to information given by Ray Adams, government operative, the still was found in operation in the cellar of the Elena home, which was under government bond.

The raid was made upon information which had been furnished the Federal men by Sheriff W. A. Shay, who was unable to search the cellar because of the government bond under which it was held. He had arrested both Frank and John Elena on previous occasions and charged them with violating the liquor laws, but the evidence on which they were held was gained outside the bonded cellar. He had reason to believe, however, he said, that bootleg liquor was being made in the cellar, which was under government bond.

PLEADS GUILTY TO BOOTLEGGING

With a jury selected and the stage all set for the trial of Luther Minerd of Needles, charged with selling liquor, the proceedings in Superior Court Tuesday were halted when the defendant entered a plea of guilty and waived time for pronouncing of sentence.

After discharging the jury, Judge Benjamin F. Warner imposed a fine of $250 against Minerd, in default of which he must serve 125 days in the county jail. The prisoner was remanded to the custody of the sheriff, pending the payment of the fine. Minerd wired to friends in Needles, from whom he expects to obtain funds for paying the fine.

Minerd was one of the men arrested during a series of raids conducted several weeks ago by District Attorney George H. Johnson and Deputy Sheriff Jack H. Brown. The defendant, who has lost his right hand as a result of a gunshot wound, presented to the court several letters from influential men in Needles, attesting to his good character in that community.

The defense offered by Minerd when asked by Judge Warner to explain why he violated the Wright Act, was that he sold the liquor for the proprietor of the garage where he was working, and that when a sale was made the receipts were rung up on the cash register the same as money received for repair work or other garage bills. He denied receiving any of the money himself.

In imposing the fine, Judge Warner declared that he was being more lenient than he would if the defendant were not physically handicapped. A physical handicap does not make a just cause for a man to do these things, Judge Warner said.

"I realize," said Judge Warner, "that the loss of time by imprisonment will mean more to you than it would mean to a normal man because the loss of time will mean the loss of money, and you can't earn money as readily as a person with two hands. I am, therefore, going to give your friends an opportunity to help you out of this."

Minerd was represented by Attorney Raymond E. Hodge, while District Attorney Johnson represented the state.

Elizabeth Wagner Annual Reception Successful Affair

Held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Brown last Friday evening, the annual Elizabeth Wagner reception given by the members of the Cucamonga M. E. Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society for the support of their protegee, Miss Wagner, in India, was a great success and attracted a large attendance. Although the speaker, the little Chinese girl from Pomona College, was unable to appear on the program as scheduled, her loss was more than compensated for in securing Mrs. Minnie Staple of Upland, a well-known missionary worker, who with her husband, has just returned from Japan, and who in her splendid way, gave her audience at first-hand an eyewitness account of the terrible earthquake which devastated the Japanese empire, and the equally terrible days which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Staple have been home but three weeks and are here to recuperate in health after their frightful experiences overseas.

Prefacing Mrs. Staple's talk, the program featured several enjoyable musical numbers, Miss Gertrude Emery in cornet selections, accompanied by her sister, Miss Isabelle on the violin and by Mrs. Emery on the piano were very pleasing, while little Misses Luella Whitney and Irene Karr delighted all with their vocal duets. An entertaining letter from the teacher of the little missionary protegee in India was read by Mrs. T. M. Joseph, relating many interesting incidents of the school and life in that far land.

As the evening waned, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses in charge of the affair and a social hour enjoyed. A substantial silver offering was received to go toward the support of Elizabeth Wagner in India, who now is taking a nurse's training course.

Mrs. Geo. E. Keyes spent last week visiting at her son's home, Geo. Keyes, Jr., in Highland, making the acquaintance of her new little granddaughter, who with her young mother are home from the Redlands Hospital and all doing splendidly. Miss Helen Keyes motored over for the week-end.

Central School pupils will hold their annual exhibit of school-work this evening, Thursday, at the school. Each classroom will have on exhibit samples of the work which that room has accomplished the past year. The exhibit is open to the public and everyone is cordially invited. At 7:30 there will be a little program in the auditorium, which will include a little play, and punch and wafers will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harvey are leaving this morning, Thursday, for Big Bear Lake, where they will enjoy an outing at their mountain cabin, "Pastime." On Decoration Day they will be joined for the holiday by their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Boyd and daughter, Miss Lois, and Miss Chaffee, all of Ontario.

Misses Margaret and Louise Beattie, Barbara Wentworth, Audrey Buehler and Cora Hedges returned Sunday evening after a delightful week-end outing with the Chaffey Girl Reserves (of which they are members) who hiked with their instructors and chaperons to the Girls' Camp in Barrett's Canyon. While there, a business meeting and installation of officers was held. The hikers returned home Sunday evening.

W. H. Rupp was expected home from Tulare today, Thursday, having been gone since Monday on a business trip. A visit also to the home of his brother, John Rupp, was also on his program before his return.

Mrs. M. W. Davenport is looking forward to a visit soon from her brother, Mr. Hunt, from Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parker and children are expected guests from Pasadena for the week-end at the home of Mrs. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Keyes, of Base Line.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Karr made a trip to Los Angeles and return Sunday, where they enjoyed a pleasant day.

O. P. Whitney has been enjoying the cool mountain breezes and invigorating atmosphere of Big Bear Lake and reports he is feeling fine. He was joined this week for a little fishing by his cousin, Arthur M. de Berard of Ontario.

Mrs. M. W. Davenport and two children and house guest, Mrs. Fred Baum, have been revelling in the pleasures of the beach this week, having motored down to their cottage at Balboa Beach for a little visit.

A merry party are planning a "carnival motor jaunt into the great desert spaces out Victorville way. Decoration Day, the wild-flowers being now at their best and presenting a pretty sight worth traveling miles for to gratify the eye of the beholder. In the party will be Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Keyes, Miss Helen Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beckley and children, Mr. V. D. Beckman and Miss Bess Beckman.

Rupp home on Base Line are Mrs. Rupp's brother, Luther Emery of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Fink, Arthur Fink, Miss Minnie Fink of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Phipps and Mrs. Isabel Emery, who has been spending some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rupp, here, is planning to return to Los Angeles Friday evening, when the party return home.

D. E. Myers was in Los Angeles on business Wednesday.

Mrs. Chas. B. Molsinger enjoyed a delightful bridge tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Richard Hanson in Riverside.

Mrs. A. C. Beattie is anticipating with great pleasure the arrival of her brother, Roy Chafe, former Cucamonga boy and well-known here, from the east sometime next month. Mr. Chafe has been away from California for a number of years, having been the past several years in the importing and exporting business in New York City. He is returning to California to be with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Chafe, for an indefinite period. Before his return, however, he expects to visit relatives in Boston, Cambridge, Winchester and other points.

after a three-day trip to Big Bear Lake, where they enjoyed a fine outing at Mr. Lucas' cabin, "Pine Shadows," and fishing in the lake after the rainy weather.

Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Lucas and daughters were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon F. Lucas in Ontario.

Cupid Busy on Southside

Wedding bells have kept the air ringing the past several weeks and created quite a stir among the young people and employees of the Citrus Growers packing-house. Following the wedding of Colonel Garrard and Opal Gallagher, comes now the elopement on Monday of R. E. Cutler and Irene Byrne, who were married in San Bernardino by Judge Kavanaugh. The bride gave her age as 22 and any objections her parents might have could no longer influence her decision to become a happy bride. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byrne of Church Street. The couple are on their way to Idaho, where they will make their future home.

On Tuesday morning Violet Hale, who moved to Cucamonga a year ago from Arkansas, became the bride of Clifford Rogers, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Rogers of Main Street. With their parents' consent, the young couple were wedded in Santa Ana and are today starting housekeeping in the Rogers' cottage on Main Street, formerly the home of the late David Kidd.

A shipwrecked traveler was washed up on a small island. He was terrified at the thought of cannibals, and explored with the utmost stealth. Discovering a thin wisp of smoke above the scrub, he crawled toward it fearfully, in apprehension that it might be from the campfire of savages. But as he came close a voice rang out sharply: "Why in hell did you play that card?"

The castaway, already on his knees, raised his hands in devout thanksgiving. "Thank God!" he exclaimed, brokenly. "They are Christians!"

LILLIAN GISH IN "THE WHITE SISTER"

BIG LILLIAN GISH
FILM, "THE WHITE SISTER," COMING

"The White Sister," the greatest triumph of Lillian Gish's career, will have its premiere at the California Theatre, Pomona, on Sunday, June 1, and will show also on June 2 and 3.

"The White Sister," which is an inspiration production released by Metro, has been acclaimed one of the most significant films ever made. The story was taken from the famous novel by F. Marion Crawford and screened entirely in Italy and northern Africa.

Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Tivoli, and even Mt. Vesuvius were some of the "locations" used, and the result, according to critics in the cities where the picture has played, is a two-dollar attraction, is the most beautiful production yet made.

Besides Miss Gish to interpret the thrilling story, the cast includes Ronald Colman, a newcomer to the screen, who has scored a sensational success; J. Barney Sherry, a motion picture pioneer; Gail Kane, heroine of many Broadway successes, and a thousand others drawn from the ranks of European players.

MAIL ORDERS FOR "LIGHTNIN"

So many requests for seat reservations for the forthcoming engagement of "Lightnin" at the California Theatre, Pomona, have been received, that the management has decided to accept mail orders at once. Orders mailed to the theater and accompanied by a check or postoffice money order, which should include the war tax of ten per cent, together with a self-addressed stamp envelope, will be filed and filled in the order of their receipt. Check should be made payable to the manager of the California Theatre.

"Lightnin" has the most unique record of any play in the history of the American stage. It ran for three years at the Gaiety Theater, New York, two years in Chicago at the Blackstone, one year in Boston, and comes here direct from sensational engagements in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Percy Pollock, lifelong friend of the late Frank Bacon and chosen by him as his successor in the title role of "Lightnin," will appear in the piece, and will be surrounded by thirteen of the original players who have been continuously identified with this tears and laughter classic since the night of its New York premiere almost six years ago. The date of its engagement at the California Theatre is Friday night, June 6th.

INSURANCE FOR
EX-SERVICE MEN

Former Soldiers and Sailors
May Reclaim Government
Offering Under New Plan

A campaign to have ex-service men, former members of the military or naval forces, reclaim insurance which they permitted to lapse, is being made in California, Arizona and Nevada by the United States Veterans' Bureau, H. L. Shepp, insurance director for this district, announced Tuesday.

According to Shepp there is practically $810,000,000 in government life insurance available to ex-service men in California alone.

"There are no penalties involved; no delay; no red tape," says Shepp. "The man who can pass a physical examination may secure his insurance by paying but two monthly premiums, one of which covers the month his life was insured after he dropped the policy and the other the month in which he makes application to reclaim it. Government insurance may be converted to life, limited payment, or endowment policies at any time before March 4, 1926.

U. S. Plan Cheapest
"Government insurance is sold at cost and the policies contain several valuable features not to be had in any other insurance regardless of price. The American Legion having carefully investigated the matter reports that the insurance sold by the government is on an average 16 per cent cheaper than similar policies sold elsewhere."

"In other words the veteran is able to buy from Uncle Sam as much as good insurance for 84 cents as the non-vet pays a dollar for on the outside. There is no catch to it. More than 600,000 men have already stepped up and reclaimed their policies, but there is enough stored away on the shelves of the treasury department to take care of 4,000,000 more applications.

"The government has no agents in the field to solicit the ex-service men; if they want to recover the insurance that protected them during the war they will have to call or write for it. Also, there is a time limit during which application may be made, so action should be taken at once. Only those who carried the insurance during their service are eligible to reclaim it, and the amount to each man is limited to what he originally had. The office of the veterans' bureau for this territory is located at 420 So. San Pedro street, Los Angeles, California," Shepp said.

He was hanging onto his job by a mere eyelash, but he didn't know it. In fact, he thought that he had become indispensable to the firm, and announced to some of his fellow-employees that he was going to strike for a raise, and if he didn't get it he was going to leave the firm flat on its back.

He made his demand on the boss and came out of the office with a puzzled look on his face. "Well," one of the boys queried, "did you tell the boss that if you didn't get a raise you were going to quit?"

"Yes."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'haven't got time to sing it to you, but you'll find the firm's answer in the second line of that grand old song, 'Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here.'"

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Carpenter, 141 Bonita Court, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Ruth Carpenter, to Herbert T. Slater. The marriage is to be an event of the late summer.

The bride is a handsome young woman of the brunette type and is popular here. The prospective bridegroom is assistant cashier of a San Bernardino Bank, and is popular in that city.

Would Build Foundation

While the people of Southern California have been engaged in building a super-structure of grace, beauty and charm, they have failed to give sufficient attention to the sub-structure on which it stands. That was the declaration Tuesday afternoon of Morgan Wood of the Greater Los Angeles Association, speaking before the members of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce in weekly forum luncheon session at the Hotpoint Club.

Mr. Wood declared that it was to establish a firm foundation or sub-structure for the graces of the Southland that the association he represents had been organized. Its purposes, he recited, are twofold, namely, education of the people to the industrial needs of the Southland, and the establishment of a fund of some $50,000,000 to aid in the establishment of worthy and worthwhile industries here.

The association aims first to build, so to speak, a great back wall of sentiment and appreciation of the industrial needs of Southern California, to teach the people to think industrially, while at the same time retaining the charm of living, according to Mr. Wood. He went on to say that if the people are to be both happy and thrifty, industry is a necessity, the more productive a community the more contented its people.

The speaker called attention to the fact that very much of the raw material used by eastern and middle western manufacturers are produced within 600 miles of Los Angeles and Southern California, and emphasized the fact that the wonderful climate of the Southland is a great manufacturing asset.

In closing, Mr. Wood declared that his organization had been termed the "greatest effort ever evolved in the Southland," that there was no intent to supplant, but rather to supplement the work of the chamber of commerce, and that the power of unified thought and purpose is incalculable.

The forum meeting was opened by Howard M. Shattuck, chamber president, and E. H. Richardson, prominent Ontario manufacturer, was chairman of the day.

Gamblers Fined

Found guilty of gambling or visiting a place where gambling was being conducted, ten men drew sentences of $10 fine or 10 days in jail Tuesday afternoon, when before Judge George R. Holbrook in the police court. The men were arrested late Monday night in a raid on a railroad labor camp at Grove Street and a spur of the Southern Pacific, conducted by Captain Arthur Axley and Patrolman A. S. Crossin of the city police force.

The men are Sam Farcia of Cucamonga, Joe Ramirez and A. Gonzales of the railroad camp, charged with gambling; Jesus Quintero of Cucamonga, Pedro Gusman, Moreno Morales, Porfirio Ventura, Jose Aguirre and G. Matos of the camp, and Joaquin Gimenez of East Park Street, charged with visiting a gambling place.

Some of the men paid their fines, while others are still held in jail. Members of the party are said to have been engaged in a game of monte, with considerable money in view, when the officers arrived on the scene.

Again Arrested

Freed Tuesday morning after a jury in the recorder's court had found him not guilty on a bootlegging charge, T. P. Rogers, local oil worker, was re-arrested Tuesday afternoon on a similar charge. The man was arraigned that evening in the justice court before Judge George R. Holbrook and his bail fixed at $500.

In lieu of bail, Rogers will probably be taken to San Bernardino to await trial, the date of which has not yet been set. Rogers is charged with having sold liquor on another date from that regarding which he was tried Tuesday.

Rogers was arrested some weeks ago on a charge of disturbing the peace and after paying his fine, was arrested on the liquor charge. He appeared in court Tuesday without attorney or witness and made no attempt to cross-examine four witnesses who appeared against him, simply denying that he had sold liquor. Emerson Fish was the principal witness against the man, claiming to have purchased liquor from him. City Attorney E. H. Jolliffe prosecuted the case.

Major Frederick L. Martin (left), commander of the American Army squad flying around the world, and his aide, Sgt. Alva L. Harvey, just before the hop-off on their flight. Word reached civilization of their safety, after virtually all hope had been abandoned. Their plane crashed into a mountain in Alaska during a dense fog. Living on "concentrated food and nerve," they walked through the snow, frequently blinded by fog, for seven days, to their first shelter, an abandoned trapper's cabin, in which there was food, on Moller Bay. They rested there for three days, recovered their strength, and then trekked on over the snow to Port Moller.

JUDGE TALKS ON ASSOCIATION WORK

"Association Work" was the subject of an informative address by Judge Louis Saulsbury, well known rabbit authority of Pasadena, before the members of the Rabbit Breeders' Association of Southern California at the third anniversary banquet of the organization at the Chaffey Union High School cafeteria Tuesday night.

Judge Saulsbury told of the work of the various state and district rabbit organizations, and illustrated what association work can accomplish. He pointed out that a rabbit association in stabilizing the market makes possible the holding of a rabbit show, which might not be successful otherwise.

Judge Charles S. Gibson, formerly of Elwood, Ind., but now of Los Angeles, who was to have been the principal speaker at the banquet, was unable to be present due to illness in his family.

James N. Dean of Ontario also spoke at the meeting, and told of plans for working out a new standard to be presented for adoption at the convention of the American Federation of New Zealand Rabbit Breeders next fall. It is generally known that nine-tenths of the New Zealand rabbits are bred in California.

Two hundred and fifty rabbit breeders from all over Southern California were in attendance at the banquet. Mrs. F. L. Warburton was general chairman of the banquet committee, and Mrs. Fred McMullen of Upland was chairman of the entertainment committee.

Other numbers on the program included piano numbers by Mrs. J. P. Nickodem of Ontario and Mrs. C. E. Bradley of Ontario; vocal solos by Frank Farrell of Ontario; piano duet numbers by Misses Lucile and Virginia Bixler of Pomona; and reading by Mrs. J. N. Dean of Ontario.

W. A. Hannah of Ontario, president of the association, was chairman for the occasion.

In a state of considerable excitement, the circus manager rushed up to Sam, the colored canvasman.

"We need a little help, Sam," he cried. "Four lions have escaped from cage five."

"Scaped?" ejaculated Sam. "Ho! dis hammer, boss. Dat's jes' zackly what Ah's gwine to do!"

"What's the matter with your wife? She's all broken up lately."

"She got a terrible jar."

"What has happened?"

"Why, she was assisting at a ummase sale; took off her new hat, and somebody sold it for thirty-five cents."—Washington Herald.

FARMERS WOULD CURB CITY POWER

Initiative petitions starting the Farm Bureau's campaign for re-apportionment of the State Legislature on lines which will prevent its control by the votes of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland will be circulated throughout Southern California next week.

Conference of directors from Regions 1 and 2 of the State Farm Bureau Federation has been called for Saturday afternoon at Fairmont Park, Riverside, it was announced by R. B. Peters, chairman of Region No. 1.

While the conference has been called primarily for the Farm Bureau representatives, any others from the smaller cities and agricultural districts of Southern California are urged to attend, Mr. Peters said.

The Farm Bureau plan for re-apportionment was explained to San Bernardinians last week by A. C. Hardison, state president of the organization, who addressed a meeting of the Lions Club. His remarks were favorably accepted.

Big Cities to Have 15 Seats
Under the initiative measure the senate representation of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda Counties would be limited to 15 members. There are forty members in the senate. No limitation is provided in the assembly. The Farm Bureau initiative is already securing vigorous support in the smaller counties in the northern part of the state.

Time remaining for the circulation of petitions is brief and every effort will be made to secure the needed number of signatures with some to spare in the Southern California counties.

After starting the movement the Farm Bureau is confronted with the probability that Los Angeles interests will place in the field an opposition which will limit the representation of the three largest cities to eleven senators, but make no restriction regarding the counties in which the cities are located. This amendment looks good on the surface, according to Mr. Peters, but it would not prevent city control, because of the suburban territory and close-in cities which have interests in common with the metropolis nearby.

The various angles of the situation will be discussed at the meeting in Riverside Saturday, Mr. Peters said.

Grocer: "What was that woman complaining about?"

Assistant: "The long wait."

Grocer: "And only yesterday she was complaining about the short weight. You can't please some people."

The beautiful motorist, stopped by the traffic cop on account of headlight trouble, turned her gaze full upon him.

"Your lamps are all right," said the susceptible young officer. "Drive on!"

"I must say those biscuits are fine," exclaimed the young husband.

"How could you say they were fine, mother. I merely said I must say so."

Left 'Em

The News Editor has this day left the bed and board of his wife. From this day on it will be the endeavor of The News Editor to pay his wife's bills, and to make she and the children happy—but it will be over long distance, for yesterday Dr. Wm. H. Craig ordered Yours Truly to leave his home or decide to stay on a lot 50x150 until further orders were issued.

To explain—the youngest son and heir, who some day may sit in the seat now occupied by his father and punch this same old typewriter in the face, has a light touch of smallpox and as a result Landlord Avery of the Upland Hotel has provided a place where this wandering, lonely, homely, meandering soul may seek succor from a world made grim because a wandering germ had to have a place to light.

ONTARIO

G. A. R. Honored

Members of Ontario Post, Grand Army of the Republic, were honored guests of the Lions Club at their weekly luncheon meeting yesterday at Hotel Casa Blanca. There were 15 members of the Post present and each was escorted to the dining room by a member of the Lions Club.

Veterans present numbered Post Commander Alois Podrasnik and Comrades Anderson, Hart, W. E. Allen, Van Pelt, E. M. Rankin, N. Krauchi, I. W. Whitaker, A. H. Sells, Delano, Tilden, Strong, Parker, Sargent and Potts.

Commander Podrasnik gave a splendid talk in which he urged that the United States have nothing to do with the promotion of schemes or instruments which will tend to make for further wars. Dr. J. H. Titus spoke briefly for the American Legion and the Rev. W. Earle Smith addressed the G. A. R. and Legion on behalf of the Lions.

The meeting was opened with the mess call on the bugle by Edmunds Cordis, Jr., who also sounded taps at its close. The pleasure of the occasion was added to by a banjo solo by Hugh Montgomery, who was accompanied on the piano by George Milligan.

A telegram from Lions International announced that the Ontario club won third place in the recent attendance contest for the western district. A telegram from Lion C. M. Sheets, who has been absent on a business trip east, stated that he was en route home.

Delegates from the Ontario club to the recent Lions convention in Sacramento announced that they had an excellent time and enjoyed a very interesting session, but they reserved their official reports for the next meeting.

Mayor Tom Ovington of Pomona was among the visitors at yesterday's meeting and spoke briefly. Other visitors included Guy Morpin of Pomona, Charles A. Briggs of China and Messrs. Bruling and Werner of Los Angeles.
